Local families...local farmers...local foods...

Our covered farmers market in Bellevue's Washington Park will feature a variety of locally grown and processed foods...seasonal vegetables, honey, syrup, a wide variety of fresh Michigan grown vegetables and fruits, meats, eggs, flowers and local crafts. The market is organized and operated by the Battle Creek Farmers Market Association, established in 1980.

Participation in this exciting new market is reasonably priced and easy to join. New customers and vendors always welcome, and the more local growers, the better!
